

The CATALYST Study

CATALYST is a phase 3 study of bardoxolone methyl in patients with connective tissue disease-associated pulmonary arterial hypertension (CTD-PAH)

About the Study

Treatment: Bardoxolone methyl or placebo capsules taken by mouth once daily for 24 weeks

Approximately 11 visits over 28 weeks

Primary endpoint: Change in 6 minute walk distance

Cost of travel may be reimbursed

Criteria for Participation

Between ages 18 and 75

Diagnosis of WHO group 1 PAH associated with connective tissue disease

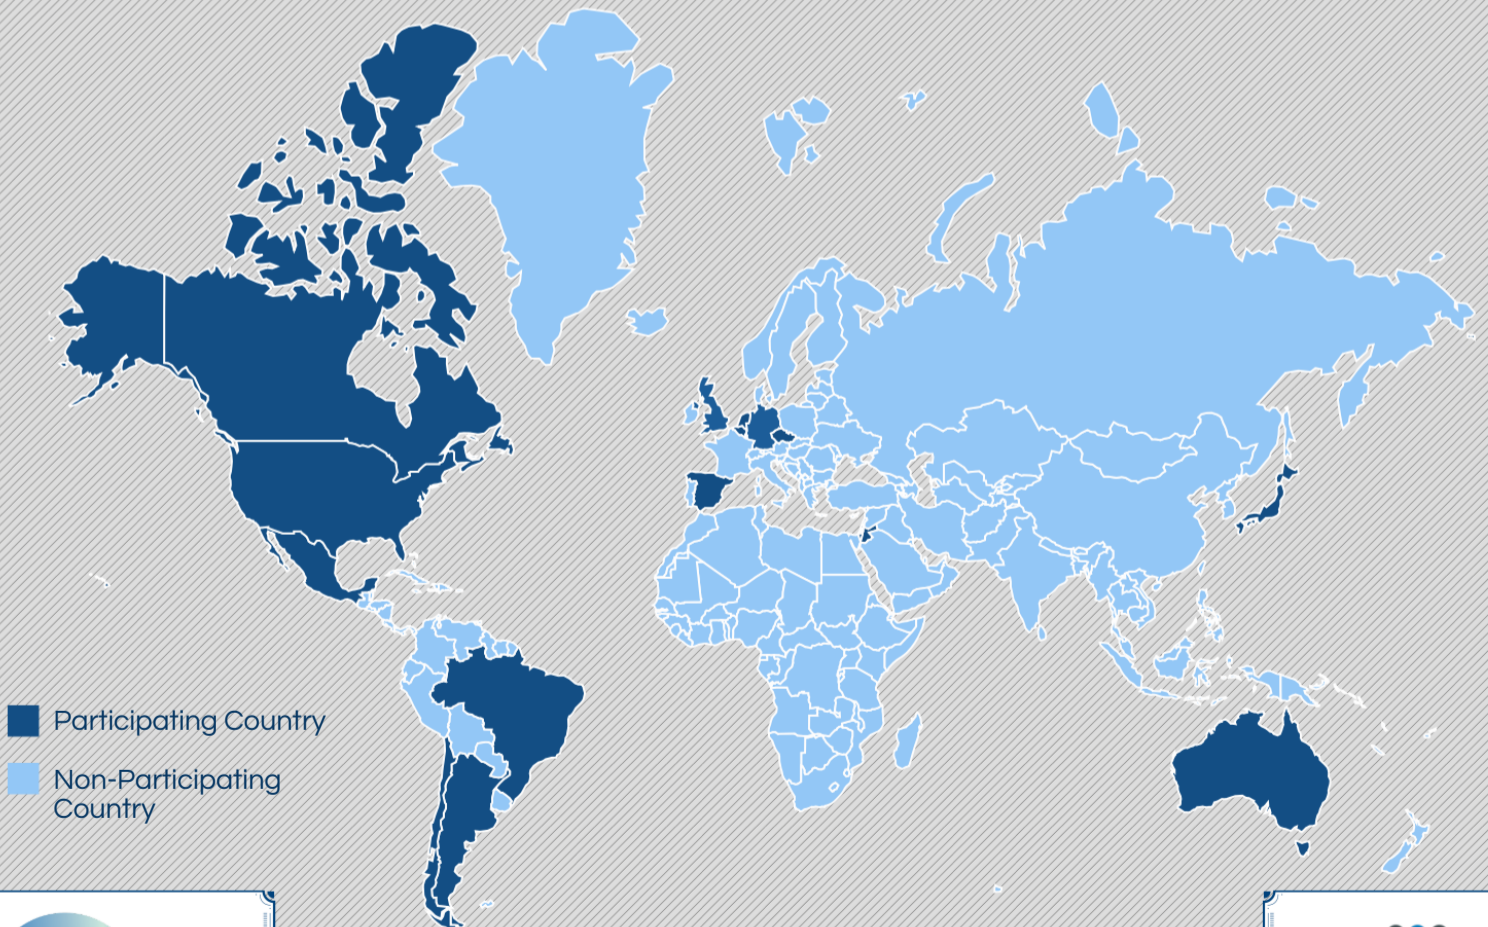

Not currently taking more than 2 approved PAH therapies

IV or subcutaneous prostacyclins not allowed

Global Study Centers

A complete list of participating study centers and contact information can be found on the clinicaltrials.gov listing

